W Gaines Bagby is the first commercial real estate professional in Austin to attain the LEED AP designation. He is trained to help his clients achieve energy savings of up to 50% and to reduce employee sick days by up to 40% by improving indoor air quality.

W. Gaines Bagby has been with CB Richard Ellis, Inc. for twenty-two years and has been a licensed commercial real estate professional in Austin since 1983. The scope of his business is both consultative and transactional, depending on the needs of his clients. He provides his clients with the strategic, and often difficult to find, information they need to make important real estate decisions. His focus is on facilitating the real estate process in ways that deliver value added results to the bottom line in a timely manner. He brings a quarter century of office purchase and leasing experience, as well as many years of industrial, retail and land experience to the table.
