Company/Organization: Boerne ISD
Title: Bond Administrator
Years as a chapter member: One Year

General Overview:

Jeff Haberstroh, raised in San Antonio, moved to Boerne in 1999. He is a 1985 graduate of Texas State Technical College and holds an Associates of Applied Arts and Sciences degree in Construction Technologies with an emphasis on structural design and civil engineering. He entered the Boerne political scene in 2001 when he was appointed by Mayor Patrick Heath to serve on the Planning and Zoning Commission. He later served as vice chairman of the Commission, participated on the ad hoc advisory committee for the Boerne Master Plan, served as a member of the intergovernmental and special development sub-committees, and was a representative to the AIA R/UDAT. Jeff was also appointed by County Judge Gaylan Schroeder to serve on the County Thoroughfare Planning Group. Jeff was elected to the city council in May 2008 and is actively involved with the $20 million bond for new facilities. Jeff is the Director of Construction Management for the Boerne Independent School District where he is responsible for day-to-day project management and bond administration, including oversight of the 2004 bond totaling $99.5 million. He is also an active member of the Land Acquisition Committee and the Energy Conservation Committee. Jeff has 30 years of experience in the development and construction industry and has spent the last 10 years representing the owners' contract interests. Jeff specializes in high efficiency "sustainable building" initiatives. Jeff serves on the Board of Directors of the Rainbow Senior Center as the volunteer Director of the Building Committee and is the owner's representative for the new Kronkosky Place construction project. Jeff is vice president and co-owner, along with wife Melissa, of the Burlap Horse located in the downtown Historic District. He is proud to be active in the Boerne community where he owns residential and business property and is committed to working for the taxpayers of Boerne and Kendall County. Jeff and Melissa have been married for 15 years, and they have one "child", Bailey, an overactive Australian Sheppard mix.
